

Soviet Premier Returns From Red China Visit

Mao Tze-Tung Talks With Russian Boss; Agree on Summit

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev returned Sunday night from unity talks in Peiping with Chinese Communist chief Mao Tze-tung.

Khrushchev's latest summit reply to the West was expected to day but there was no indication he would demand that Mao attend the top level talks.

The two top men of the Communist world revealed their four-day secret meeting to a surprised world Sunday in a 1,500-word communique again demanding a summit conference without delay — the first of many Soviet summit appeals to the West in which Mao has joined.

Communist Policy

Khrushchev and Mao presumably spent much of their time co-ordinating Communist policy for the big-power meeting, now expected to be held by the U.N. Security Council in about two weeks at New York or Geneva.

But the joint communique made no demand for a seat for the Red Chinese at the same table with the Western leaders. This would present complications for the West—and delay the talks if not wreck them altogether. The United States does not recognize Red China and has been the chief force keeping President Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime in China's permanent Security Council seat.

The Soviet Premier made the original Mideast summit conference proposal July 1, asking for a meeting of the heads of the governments of the United States, France, Britain, the Soviet Union and India along with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Apparent Disregard

This apparent disregard of the Peiping government may have raised violent objections among the Chinese Reds and forced Khrushchev to go off to Peiping and placate his Chinese allies. But in their joint statement, Khrushchev and Mao expressed complete solidarity on the Middle East crisis and the international situation as a whole.

They accused the West of obstructing a summit meeting, charged the United States and Britain with "flagrant aggression" by sending troops to Lebanon and Jordan and reaffirmed their "fraternal relations of friendship, all-round cooperation."

180 Pledges Sought for Blood Drive

At least 180 pledges will be needed to insure a collection of 125 pints of blood, the goal set for the next visit of the Cleveland Regional Blood Mobile Monday, Aug. 18 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Harold Wyckoff, recruiting chairman, said the staff is hopeful of exceeding the goal this month to make up for the failure to meet the quota at the last visit of the unit, when only 108 pints were collected.

Persons between the ages of 18 and 59 are eligible to become donors, and if transportation is needed, they may call the Red Cross office where new registrations will be accepted. A baby-sitting service also will be in operation at the church with the Jayceettes in charge.

Mrs. Albert Hanna will head the committee in charge of feeding the donors and personnel.

Penn Grill Operators Face State Hearing

Harold Houts and Carvel Phillips, operators of the Penn Grill, 599 E. State St., are scheduled to appear before the Ohio Board of Liquor Control at Columbus Wednesday for a hearing on charges filed by state liquor inspectors.

They are charged with having pinball machines in operation on the premises in violation of the state liquor laws.

More Than 13,000 Troops Have Now Landed In Lebanon

5 Persons Hurt In Road Mishaps

Highway Patrolmen Cite 3 Motorists

Five persons were taken to area hospitals for treatment following a series of road accidents in the district over the weekend, the highway patrol reports. Three drivers were cited.

Admitted to City Hospital for treatment of lacerations of scalp and chin was Terry G. Tagg, 19, of Scottown, O., as the result of an accident on Rt. 62, one mile east of Damascus, at 2:30 this morning. He is fairly good condition.

Also admitted to the hospital was Grover W. Harris, 39, of Warren, who sustained scalp lacerations and a neck injury in an accident on Rt. 7, a mile south of East Fairfield, at 10:40 p.m. Saturday. He also is in fairly good condition.

Treated at the Central Clinic following an accident on Rt. 62, just north of Salem, at 7:40 a.m. Sunday was Carmen Sena, 36, of Niles, who sustained lacerations and abrasions of the scalp and a bruised right arm.

Two persons injured in a motorcycle-farm tractor collision were taken to Alliance City Hospital following a mishap at 7:55 p.m. Sunday on County Road 401, 5.3 miles south of Rt. 62.

The injured were: Chalmers L. Coss, 35, of RD 3, Minerva, abrasion of the right knee and a possible fracture of the hip; and Jerry J. Coss, 14, contusions of the left knee and toe, and a possible fracture of the neck.

Highway patrolmen said Tagg was injured when his car ran into the rear of a truck operated by Donald E. Gates, 31, of Canton.

The patrol said Tagg apparently fell asleep while driving. He was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Patrolmen arrested Harris for reckless operation after his car went off the right side of Rt. 7 on a curve and struck a utility pole.

The Niles woman was hurt when

A passing truck driver saved Mrs. Mabel Gehring, 81, of RD 3, Salem, from certain injury and possible death when he caught her after she fell Sunday morning while attempting to walk across the roof of the porch at her home in Winona.

Guy Mangus of Hanoverton noticed the elderly woman on the roof as he was driving past the Gehring home. He stopped his truck and ran to the house just as Mrs. Gehring slipped on the wet roof and lost her footing. Mr. Mangus caught her before she could hit the ground.

Constable Roy Rogers brought Mrs. Gehring to the Central Clinic, where she was examined and released without treatment.

2,200 U.S. Soldiers Arrive in Beirut Sunday

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The United States swelled its armed force in Lebanon to more than 13,000 men over the weekend.

The Middle East battleground enjoyed a respite from major shooting but the politicians began bickering over who should represent Lebanon at a summit conference.

Twenty-two hundred American soldiers landed in Beirut Sunday and 73 tanks and 226 other vehicles awaited unloading.

Most of the new arrivals were men of a tank battalion, plus engineers, radiomen, a medical unit and food inspectors.

Uneasy Truce

There were indications that more American troops and equipment were on the way although the Lebanese rebellion has settled into an uneasy unofficial truce since the election of Gen. Fuad Shehab as president. In the only explanation of the U.S. reinforcement, Adm. James L. Holloway, the American commander in the area, said they were part of the total originally ordered to Lebanon last month and had not been diverted.

Both Beirut and the northern port of Lebanon, the two chief centers of fighting, were almost completely quiet over the weekend.

Rebel leader Kamal Jumblatt was reported disarming his 2,000-man private army in the mountains southeast of Beirut. But the rebel leaders in Tripoli and Beirut

Mental Health Program Set For Oct. 7

LISBON — The second annual program on "Mental Health in the Classroom" series has been set for the evening of Oct. 7, at the new Salem High School.

The program is sponsored by the Columbiana County Mental Health Association, in co-operation with all village, city, and county school systems.

The topic under consideration is "Pupil-Personnel Services" to be developed by a panel of experts discussing different treatment of children through counseling and psychological services, special health services, and provisions for exceptional children.

Arrangements for the dinner will be carried out through the auspices of education associations, with Salem Teachers Association as host.

The 1957 workshop session held in East Liverpool, attracted 1,000 area educators.

Attending the general planning session held last Friday at Wick Hotel in Lisbon were: E. S. Kerr, Lillian R. Schroeder of Salem; Loren Early, Cornell Monda and Mrs. Paul Hum of Lisbon; Ralph Betts, Paul H. Blair of East Liverpool; Mrs. Jennie Calhoun of Wellsville; James L. McBride and Willie Strader of the Columbiana County School system; Bryce W. Kendall, president of the Columbiana County Mental Health Association.

Mrs. Paul Hum of Lisbon, a teacher in the Salem Schools, was named general chairman of the 1958 program.

Little Rock Case Appears in Court

School Board's Delay Subject of Appeal

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A case which could have a direct bearing on the speed of racial integration in Southern public schools went to the seven judges of the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals today.

The case is an appeal challenging a 2½-year postponement of integration at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., where eight Negro students finished last term after a tense year of mixed attendance under a federal court-approved plan of gradual integration.

Paratroopers were sent to the school by President Eisenhower to maintain order.

The delay, sought by the Little Rock School Board, was granted by Federal Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is appealing. The NAACP originally objected to the gradual plan on the grounds it was too slow but now is trying to salvage any sort of immediate integration a Central High and keep integration moving in the South.

The appeals court has dealt with the Little Rock situation three times, always ruling in favor of gradual integration.

The school board holds that the appeals court must decide whether a school district is responsible for enforcing the district laws.

Its brief cites instances of violence which occurred at Central the past school year and declares that the board should not be forced to go ahead with integration under the insuperable handicaps which have been thrust upon it.

Attorneys for the school board said it is not trying to evade the court-ordered desegregation but is just seeking an adjustment in its time schedule.

The NAACP's brief is based on three points:

1. That community opposition—

Two Trash Collection Systems Studied Here

BY TOM CONAWAY

By the first of the year, City Council must choose between one of two types of refuse collection systems to replace the private haulers who now operate in the city.

Under study are:

1. A system owned and operated by the municipality, and using workmen and equipment under the supervision of public officials.

2. The contract franchise type of service, whereby the municipality contracts with an individual or private company to collect refuse according to conditions stated in the contract.

Ohio Accidents Over Weekend Claim 19 Lives

Five Persons Drown, Sandusky Infant Dies In Fall From Bed

By The Associated Press

Nineteen persons met accidental deaths in Ohio over the weekend, 10 of them occurring in highway mishaps and five others in drownings.

In the miscellaneous category four were killed, two were electrocuted, one of burn and a 6-month old boy as the result of a fall from a bed.

On the highways there were two multi-fatal accidents, both of them claiming two lives.

A man and his sister were killed Friday night in a auto collision at the intersection of two Hancock County roads and two women killed in a collision with a cement truck on Ohio 45 south of Warren Saturday. One woman was killed instantly and the second died Sunday in a Warren hospital.

The Associated Press tabulates weekend deaths in a period beginning at 6 p. m. Friday and ending at midnight Sunday.

The fatalities:

Friday night

Ben Braden, 69, Carey, and his sister, Mrs. Ray Morehart, 67, Findlay, in the collision at an intersection of two Hancock roads seven miles east of Findlay.

Jack Smith, 52, Camp Luz, a Wayne County resort area, drowned when he went to the aid of his 11-year-old son, who managed to save himself. The boy fell into a small lake while fishing.

Dennis Allen Gunn, 2, Stryker, when he ran into the side of a car in the Williams County community's business district.

Saturday

Mrs. Dorothy Alexander, 29, Mount Clemens, Mich., died from injuries received in an accident Friday which killed her husband and two of her children. It happened at the intersection of U. S. routes 224 and 250 near Ashland, and involved a car and a truck.

Miss Wilma Randolph, 22, Clarksburg, W. Va., when her car collided with a loaded cement truck on Ohio 45 south of Warren.

Another person in the car died Sunday.

Lee C. Nielson, 18, Montville Twp. in Geauga County, in a collision at the intersection of two rural roads in the county.

Mid-East Doesn't Want to Be Cockpit of World War III

Summit May Reunite U. S. With Arabs

FIRST OF FOUR ARTICLES

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

For years the United States has been losing friends in the Arab east. It still is.

Strangely enough, the shock of recent events may have given Americans a chance to turn the tide. These events made Arabs see their area as the possible cockpit of World War III. The thought jolted them.

Thus, in the proposed summit meeting and in its actions elsewhere, the United States may face a last chance to salvage something from the wreckage of its prestige among the Arabs. Oil and strategic position are two key points underlying any consideration of this area.

Basically, the struggle hinges on vast riches in oil. And this is the cross roads of the world. The question that must worry Western leaders is this: Is the Soviet Union going to be able some day to squeeze the West's influence out of this area, and make Moscow master of the great sea route that connects east and west?

Those are the stakes. One of the things that brought America to today's nadir of crisis was its failure to see, or at least comprehend, the implications of the movement toward independence that swept postwar across lands long under colonial rule.

This nationalist fever swept up the Arabs, too, but their is not a nationalism confined to the specific boundaries of one country. It is pan-Arabism, a feeling of oneness among people occupying a vast segment of the backward world, speaking Arabic, sharing the same racial memories, harboring bitterness against a history of exploitation.

The Russians did not really awaken to the possibilities of this movement until after Stalin's death. Then Soviet policy set out to capitalize on the side, as if heeding the Biblical prophecy of Jeremiah:

The waves now threatening to engulf all the Holy Land are those of a pan-Arab nationalism churned by frustration into a thing called Nasserism. Gamal Abdel Nasser, President of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria, denies Nasserism exists. Whatever its name, the force came into being because of him. He may be the captive of its momentum.

Events of the past three months plummeted Western prestige in the Arab East. In many Arab eyes the twin intervention—in Jordan by the British and in Lebanon by the Americans—set back the clock and revived the dreaded bogey of imperialism and colonialism.

Many Arabs still want desperately to remain the West's friends, though they have fallen silent before the swelling tide of emotional and often grotesquely distorted racial pride. Before this summer's events there had been developing a cautious attitude of reasonableness—reasonableness, at any rate, by Arab standards, which are far different from the West's.

Much of that climate is gone now. The United States, as leader of the West, can claim as friends in the Arab East only those whose survival depends upon such friendship: Hussein, a lonely young monarch heavily guarded in Amman against his own people; Camille Chamoun, the tough, stubborn politician who has been occupying Lebanon's presidential palace; 750,000 frightened Christians in Lebanon; less than 500,000 scared Bedouins in Jordan.

How did American fortunes sink so low? Palestine always has been basic to the Middle East problem. Up to February 1955, there was reason to hope the Arabs might turn inward to their own vast economic woes. Then began a nightmare for Western policy.

Nagged by hit-and-run commando attacks, Israel mounted an attack on the Egyptian-occupied Gaza Strip. That humiliated Nasser and endangered his political position. He sought arms. He could not meet U.S. terms. The Communist bloc was eager to help.

Even with these arms Nasser was in no position to upset Middle East peace. He still might have concentrated on attempts to cure Egypt's backwardness. However, over-ambitious, Nasser's plan for a high Aswan Dam to increase Egypt's arable land might have kept him occupied at home.

But Washington pulled the rug from under Nasser, withdrawing an offer of help on the dam and handing him a gratuitous insult: Egypt wasn't up to such a program. The result was nationalization of the Suez Canal and the 1956 crisis.

The West, depending heavily on Arab oil, must choose: It can try to oppose nationalism and drive the Arabs into desperate measures such as slain Nuri Said meant when he talked of "a compulsion to flit with suicide." This can mean unending Arab turmoil and even eventual Soviet sway. Or the United States can encourage a genuine nationalism and try to lead it into constructive channels. To those who have had long Middle East experience, this course offers a chance to avert disaster.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Plant foods and animal foods are being developed to achieve full development of plants and animals in shorter periods of time. These new feeding processes, along with varying types of irrigation, assure better crops in shorter seasons. Farm productivity has multiplied rapidly in the last 20 years.

Our mental and social development has been rapid during this same period of time. Children who are graduating from college this year came from homes where neither parent even had a desire to finish high school.

It is high time that we accelerated our spiritual growth. It is not enough to read books about the Bible. We must discover the Bible's message for our lives. We must nourish our spirit with the food of love so that we may mature in time for the harvest.

Q—Is there a deadline date for starting school under the War Orphans Education program?
A—There is no deadline date. You may begin school at any time, so long as you are between 18 and 23 years of age. Under certain circumstances it's possible to begin before 18 and continue after 23.

Q—I have an idea for a small mail order business which I could start from my place of residence. Can I get a GI home loan to buy a house in which I would plan also to conduct my own business?
A—Yes, provided the house will be used primarily for residential purposes and will not contain more than one business.

Q—I need to write the VA on a question about my GI insurance, but can't find my insurance number. What kind of information will help VA in identifying me and my policy?
A—Give the VA your full name, your branch of service, date of separation from service, your serial number, and the date and place of your birth. This information should enable VA to identify your policy.

6 Area Youths Enlist In Navy During July

Chief Petty Officer Edwin Pease: Navy recruiter for the Salem area, announced today that six local boys enlisted in the Navy during July. All were enlisted in the Navy's high school graduate training programs.

Enlisting as electronics field seaman recruits were Richard Zimmer of 750 S. Broadway, Cecil Flory of 530 Cherry St., Darell Bush of Virginia Ave., Greenford, and Ricco Gallo of 244 Walnut St., Leetonia.

Enlisting as high school airman recruit was David Beery Jr. of RD 5, Salem, while Victor Hedl of 337 Columbia St., Leetonia enlisted as a high school seaman recruit.

The local recruiter also announced his transfer from Salem to East Liverpool, effective Tuesday. He reported that his office hours for Salem are 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. every Tuesday and 12 to 2 p.m. every Thursday.

Chief Pease urges all high school graduates to take advantage of the Navy's high school graduate training programs and to contact him for further information.

68 County Prisoners Received In July

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports a total of 68 prisoners were received at the county jail during July, in addition to the 35 already confined on July 1.

Sixty-eight prisoners were released during the month, three were conveyed to state institutions and eight mental patients were taken to see hospitals.

A total of 3,536 meals were served at the jail during July. The total cost was $1,055.76 making the average daily cost per prisoner 90 cents.

Sheriff VanFossan reports 221 legal papers served, and 5,722 radio transmissions handled, along with 1,316 phone calls at the jail. Fees totaling $450.71 were collected.

There were 224 visitors at the jail during July and the sheriff's office in the Court house accepted 45 sets of fox feet for bounty during the month.

The Rev. Leonard Simcoe, minister of the Apostolic Church of Pentecost in Manitoba, Canada, is the grandson of an Ojibway Indian Chief.

Youth Fitness Day Planned At Park

The Salem Jaycees and Salem Park Commission will sponsor Youth Fitness Day Wednesday at Centennial Park.

Boys and girls from eight years of age and up may enter the testing events, signing in at the north ball diamond beginning at 1:30 p.m. In case of rain, the testing will take place Friday at the same time and place.

Children will be divided into age groups, 8 to 9, 10 to 11, 12 to 13, 14 to 15, and 16 and older, for participation in the following events: Pull-ups, push-ups, sit-ups, standing broad jump, soft ball throw and 600 yard run and walk.

Each child who participate in all the events will receive a "Youth Fitness Award" certificate signed by the Rev. Bob Richards, Olympic pole vaulting champion, and George Ehrhart, president of Salem Jaycees.

Rusty Tomlinson, director of Salem Parks and Recreation, heads the committee comprised of Gary Moffett, Elijah Alexander, Don DeJane, Jack Smith and Art Herron Jr. The committee is being assisted by the Salem Jayceettes.

If You Know Window Styles It'll Help You In Planning

Know what an awning window is? Ever hear of a "hopper" window? What about doublehung? Fixed sash?

A knowledge of window types and styles, how they work, and the advantages of each will be important to you if you ever plan to remodel a house, buy on, or build one.

Windows of ponderosa pine come in many types and are suitable for all styles of architecture. Most wood windows are made of ponderosa pine because of its great strength in relation to its light weight, its ability to hold shape and size, and because it can be precisely machined.

Here are some of the styles of windows available in ponderosa pine:

Double-hung. This is the familiar window that raises from the bottom and lowers from the top. It is available in styles for both contemporary and traditional architecture.

Awning. A popular model for modern homes, the awning window opens up and out for full ventilation. The pane forms a tiny "roof" that keeps rain out when the window is open.

Hopper. This style is similar to the awning window, but opens inward and down. It is often used with awning styles for a wall of windows, as the drawing shows. The hopper style, installed at floor level, permits draft-free ventilation.

Casement. The casement style opens outward and to one side, permitting full-window ventilation. A popular style often installed as a casement window is the three-way unit of ponderosa pine. Installed horizontally, it is an awning window. Turned over, it becomes a hopper style. Installed on its side, it is a casement window.

Sliding. This window opens by sliding to one side. Like the double-hung style, it operates at a touch, yet closes firmly.

Fixed sash. This is the popular "picture" window, which does not open. As the drawing shows, it often is used between other styles that permit ventilation.

Double-hung-awning. This combination window permits Colonial styling with modern operation. Closed, the window looks like a traditional double-hung style, but it opens like an awning window.

Ease of cleaning is a feature of all these windows of ponderosa pine. Double-hung and sliding styles are available in models that lift out for easy washing inside the house. Awning, hopper, and casement styles open in such a way that both sides of the glass can be cleaned from the inside.

The Question Box

Question: Last summer I made a couple of baseball bats for my boys out of hickory. I have a lathe and all the necessary tools for this kind of work. I have read that many major league ball players now use bats made out of plywood. Can you tell me what kind of plywood I should use for making a few more bats?

Answer: The laminated wood now being used in the manufacture of many baseball bats is specially made. As far as I know, it cannot be purchased in retail lumber yards. You might try writing to one of the large plywood companies for further information.

Question: My wife and I have been looking over house plans for some time now, since we plan on having a house built soon. Is it possible to have a bathroom built somewhere inside the house rather than in a room which has an outside wall? This seems to be fairly common in hotels and office buildings, but I can't seem to recall seeing it in a private home.

Answer: Over the years there have been many bathrooms built on the inside without windows, especially years ago when skylights were very prevalent.

The skylights went out of fashion for a while but are making a comeback because of the use of plastic domes and special glass blocks that admit filtered light at all times. Keep out the rays of the summer sun and admit the rays of the winter sun.

These new materials are used in conjunction with exhaust fans. However, in the final analysis, you must accept the advice of your architect on whether an interior bathroom would be practical in the type of house you plan on building.

Question: Can you tell me something about the wood that is called pecky cypress. I like the appearance of it and would like to finish the walls of an extra room with it but will the rotted part, or what looks like he roed par, spread to the rest of the wood in time?

Answer: Pecky cypress is the name applied to wood cut from cypress trees which have been infested with a fungus. This fungus enters the living trees through broken branches and works its way down through the heartwood of the branches into the main trunk of the tree.

Hoffa and His Washington Ordeal

So many murky passages in the affairs of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters have been found by the Senate rackets investigation since the last time James R. Hoffa was on its carpet that the investigators have invited him to make a return engagement.

The last time was August a year ago, when he was still vice president of the union. He is president now.

He and the Teamsters are doing business under a board of monitors charged with responsibility for the union's good conduct. It is precedent-making situation.

Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who appointed the board as part of the settlement of a challenge to Mr. Hoffa's right to be the Teamsters president, explained it in a recent article written as a favor to Victor Riesel.

"The board is designed to be a defender of American democracy in the labor area," he said. He made these points:

"The Teamsters Union is the largest in the world. Unhappily, some of those in high place have disregarded their duties as fiduciaries. It is no secret that all too often the rights of the workers have been disregarded and, indeed, ignored. As a result of abuses and reprisals, there is a general disrespect for the leaders. . . Union bosses have exerted control over the rank-and-file by resorting to abuses, threats and intimidation and so destroying the will of the workers as free men. . . Scandal and corruption must be eliminated. Hopefully, it is believed that legislation will provide a remedy for many of the evils but the best hope is that reforms may be accomplished which will return to the workers the powers which are rightfully theirs to be exercised through the processes of democratic principles."

In short, Mr. Hoffa and his administration of the Teamsters Union are under unrelenting official scrutiny not only from the Senate rackets investigation but a board of monitors answerable to a federal judge. It will be interesting to see if Mr. Hoffa again has to lose his memory 111 times in one day's session to evade answers to questions and if his conduct this time will be so irritating it will lead the chairman of the committee to make a 48-item indictment of his conduct.

It is possible Mr. Hoffa has changed for the better under supervision, but when he returns to the witness stand a year after his memorable appearance last August it will not be surprising if his memory still fails him.

Congress Doesn't Always Know

The question is not likely to be answered in one lifetime, but an answer must be looked for in each generation: How can the intent of Congress be pinned down to a certainty in the administration of laws?

A recent event illustrates the problem that clouded intent can create.

When the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that Passport Office, acted accordingly. She grant applicant's beliefs and associations and suggested that only Congress could give the State Department such arbitrary authority, Miss Frances G. Knight, director of the Passport Office, acted accordingly. She granted a number of passports that had been held up.

Thereupon she was criticized by Rep. Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, who claimed that the Passport Office should have waited for Congress to pass new laws.

In the first place, Miss Knight would have been unable to foresee what the new laws would say. In the second place, she would have been unable to understand what the new laws were intended to say; she would have had to wait for the courts to decide—years later.

The matter of interpretation is tackled in the Smith bill, approved by the House of Representatives last week. The bill deals with the specific question of when a federal law pre-empt a state law in the same field.

It would authorize Congress to declare when a law was passed that it pre-empted all state laws in the same field. In the absence of such a declaration, no court thereafter could rule that a state law was invalid because a federal law occupied the same field.

This is step in the right direction, although it is doubtful if the ultimate destination of absolute clarity ever will be reached. It is intended to do when it passes a law and is perfectly content to let the U.S. Supreme Court decide.

If the decision is unpopular, the lawmakers ers can blame the Supreme Court, in exactly the same way they always make a practice of blaming the executive department for spending the money they authorize and appropriate.

Farewell to Rivets

A technical report on the substitution of bolting for riveting in steel construction raises this interesting point:

Were the millions of people whose nerves were jarred by the clatter of riveters working on steel frameworks wrong when they asked if all that noise was necessary.

When they asked it, they were criticized for being unwilling to pay the price of progress. It was pointed out to them that riveting was the only way to hold a steel structure together and that it necessarily was a noisy process.

But the fact is that bolting always was just as good a way to do it as riveting, provided the bolting was done in right way with the right kind of bolts. Even welding was as good a way in many cases.

Recreation

The dual position of assistant superintendent of parks and assistant manager of the Memorial Building was filled today when John W. Dawson, 26, of Philadelphia, assumed his new duties here.

Mr. Dawson, who comes recommended by the National Recreation Association, will help Rusty Tomlinson in carrying out a well-rounded recreation program for Salem youngsters—spring, summer and winter.

Salem's parks and playground program has been functioning well for the past several years and the enthusiasm of the directors will have much bearing on its future success. This includes a suggested resumption of work in expanding Memorial Park, the city's newest recreational facility. Not much has been done there lately, for some reason.

ing to the movies. But it may be merely that the popcorn is being chewed more loudly.

If Khrushchev had been allowed to take over the U.N. session the TV coverage could have been titled "As the World Burns."

Postage stamps have joined inflation. Customers now have to see a price list the same as when shopping for anything else. The U.S. Post Office buildings now almost have an admission charge and P.O. motto now reads "Neither snow, nor rain, nor the fact the public is groggy from high prices can keep this Post Office from trying to make both ends meet."

POSTAGE STAMPS are now in your budget with meat, milk, gasoline and rent.

Russia has a pay-as-you-hiccup system for the campaign against drinking. A fine of 100 rubles is cut one-fourth if a drunk pays it to the arresting officer. This assumption that a pillulated disturber will resort to mathematical calculations and compromise talk with a cop is a novel one. Our bet is that a Soviet sous will put up a battle like souses everywhere, explaining in court, "I was walking along minding my own business when a squad of cops jumped me and demanded all my money."

SARATOGA RACE MEET, one of the very few on earth conducted in an atmosphere of rustic quiet and complete absence of super-duper modernistic buildings, is on.

It's the only race track where a man can really relax, brush off the yen to make a killing on the ponies and behave as if in his right mind. Here are ancient structures, ancient trees, ancient sense of peace and ancient emotional controls.

At Saratoga, once off the main drag, you are back in the days of an earlier America, when Ulysses S. Grant went to the track behind a span of horses.

With a little imagination (and perhaps a julep you can see long forgotten governors, senators and fabulous tycoons moving in the shadows of the great elms. (That gal causing all the neck-stretching is Lillian Russell.

That Broke the Mold

Summit Was Shot Before Birth

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The summit meeting, which now looks dead, was a mixed-up mess before it had a chance to start. This is an explanation of how it was shot before it was born.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev on July 19 called for a summit meeting to restore stability to the Middle East. This was after American and British troops moved into Lebanon and Jordan at the request of the heads of those governments.

He called the American-British action a threat to world peace. He suggested the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and India take part in the meeting. The place? He proposed Geneva, Washington, anywhere.

By thus putting the Soviet Union in the role of peacemaker, he gave the Soviets a propaganda advantage. The West couldn't ignore it.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed to the meeting July 22 but suggested it be held in the United Nations Security Council in New York. And he made a very important point:

He suggested that the big powers should not—as is usual in the Council—vote on the problems discussed, but rather that they try to reach agreement without voting.

(The United States, Britain,

France and the Soviet Union—but not India—are permanent members of the Council. They have regular delegates sitting in for them. If a summit meeting was held in the Council the delegates would just turn their seats over to the heads of their governments.)

It was widely reported the Eisenhower administration wanted no part of a summit meeting but was pushed into reluctant agreement by the British. President Eisenhower wrote a very angry letter to Khrushchev. But, in effect, he appeared to agree without saying so flatly to a summit meeting in the Council.

But French Prime Minister Charles de Gaulle didn't go along with Macmillan and Eisenhower. He thought the big powers' delegates in the Council should continue to try to reach some agreement on the Middle East, with a summit conference held elsewhere if it were needed.

On July 23 Khrushchev shot back a fast acceptance of the Eisenhower-Macmillan proposals, agreed to go to New York, and agreed with Macmillan that the meeting should try to reach agreements without voting.

He even suggested the heads of government might be able to get things done in an unofficial way. Which might mean: they could sit in public in the Council for a while but do their real arguing and agreeing behind closed doors. But he again proposed that India sit in and that the Arab states should take part in the discussion. Under the Council rules any U. N. member not on the Council can ask to be heard in any discussion involving its area.

Therefore, as de Gaulle later pointed out, if the Arabs could talk before the Council on the Middle East, Israel, Turkey, Iran and others would have the same right.

If the discussion went further than the Middle East, other nations would want to be heard. In short, as he said, this would no longer be just a summit meeting. In fact, it could turn into a free for all.

On July 25 Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev another letter. He added something which he hadn't mentioned before. He said any summit meeting in the Security Council should be governed by rules of the Council.

Presumably this meant voting, which was just the opposite of what Macmillan and Khrushchev had talked of. Eisenhower went further: before there was a summit meeting in the Council, he said, the big powers' delegates there should work out arrangements for the conference.

Macmillan went along with Eisenhower—to the extent of saying the delegates should make the summit arrangements. But de Gaulle still wouldn't go along. He suggested a summit meeting limited to the big powers somewhere in Europe.

Khrushchev accused Eisenhower and Macmillan—with their proposal that the delegates arrange the meeting—of trying to stall off any summit meeting at all. He said those same delegates have been unable to agree on what to do about the Middle East.

And he switched from his agreement to go to New York. Teaming up with de Gaulle's idea, he proposed Monday that the big powers meet in Europe.

The White House said Eisenhower still sticks to his idea about having the meeting in the Security Council the way he proposed. That about wraps it up.

Indirect Aggression

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The Real Issue In The Future

It looks like a summit conference will be held soon in Geneva with or without General Charles de Gaulle. The meeting will begin within the United Nations Security Council but with ample time for side conferences.

Thus all points of view probably will be satisfied on questions of procedure and David Lawrence the big emphasis rather will be on the propaganda side. For what else are the speeches and public statements intended to be but efforts to convince world opinion of the rightness of each nation's viewpoint?

The day is gone in diplomacy when a few statesmen from the big powers can sit around the table and decide the fate of millions of people throughout the world.

There was a time during World War II when even Winston Churchill favored the "sphere of influence" idea, with the major powers dividing up the earth's surface on the basis of agreed-upon jurisdictions. But since then the smaller powers have rightly sought a voice in their own destiny.

The United Nations gives it to them under the way the General Assembly is set up and by rotating seats for the non-permanent members of the Security Council.

THE REAL ISSUE

in the future is going to be how to protect small nations from the "indirect aggression" that threatens them. Moscow says Britain and the United States, by landing troops in Jordan and Lebanon, are guilty of "aggression" but this is just a smoke-screen to divert attention from the plots that have helped the Communists to keep the Middle East turmoil for the last year.

What the United States would like to see is a full and comprehensive disclosure of the facts, and especially the causes of the problems that have emerged in the Middle East.

As Secretary Dulles puts it, the world is in grave danger of war today unless "indirect aggression," as now being practiced, can be checked. He says that, if war is to be avoided, the Soviet Union will have to agree that the subject of "indirect aggression" and all practices designed "to foment civil strife inside a country" shall be brought under the jurisdiction of the United Nations.

This is the paramount issue that the United States will press for at tention at the forthcoming meeting of the Security Council and at any summit conferences collateral thereto. For the United States is determined that no one nation shall set itself up as the "protector" of any group of small nations. This, it is felt, is an international responsibility and should be vested in the machinery of the United Nations.

In recent years the United States has ceased to maintain that it has sole responsibility for protecting the territorial integrity and political independence of the nations of this hemisphere and has agreed to share it with the organization of American states.

Some arrangement that does away with the dominance of any single power in the Middle East is what may be expected to emerge if the Soviets are sincerely anxious to preserve peace in the area.

THE SOVIETS, on the other hand, have never given evidence of either sincerity or honesty in their international relations. They give lip service to agreements and then clandestinely violate them.

The most flagrant example today is in the Far East, where the Soviets and their Red China stooge have refused to agree that the United Nations appoint a commission to settle the Korean dispute.

A top-level conference at Geneva in 1954 was futile. There denunciations of the U.N. were uttered by the Communists and no progress has been made since about giving to the Koreans the political independence they deserve.

The Communist troops not only occupy North Korea five years after the truce was made but have war planes there in violation of the armistice provisions.

The world apparently needs more proof of Soviet hypocrisy. Another summit conference will certainly furnish it. There is always heard the cliché that it does no harm to talk to the Russians and that "at least we shall know where we stand."

One wonders how long the free nations are going to make paper agreements that the Soviets ignore but which tie the hands of free nations.

More troops, therefore, should be sent to the Middle East — this time by the United Nations — to prevent the Communists and their main agent, Nasser, from continuing to stir up trouble in the Arab countries generally and thus threatening the peace of the world. It's the only practical way now to check "indirect aggression" and avoid a big war.

The New York Herald Tribune

The Plain Janes

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The Plain Janes have been doing very well in the recession, thank you.

In the stock market these are usually called defensive stocks. They are the ones that in bull markets excite no wolf whistles from the traders. The Plain Janes go their prim way, moving upward slowly and offering no quick killings for the in-and-outers.

In bull markets all eyes are on their more glamorous sisters, the growth stocks, which can move rapidly higher in price and offer chances for big profits later on.

In the business world the Plain Janes are the ones most likely during a recession to register increased earnings as usual, while the erstwhile glamor girls may be looking shabby indeed.

And in both the stock market and the business world of profit and loss statements these defensive industries have been proving during the latest recession that once more they are defensive — that they are more recession proof than most others, that their earnings rise at the same stately pace and the prices of their stocks fluctuate much less violently than do the erstwhile stars.

The reason such industries as utilities and food have shown earnings increases this year over last when most others are reporting sharp declines is rooted in human behavior.

During a slump many people postpone buying big ticket items like cars and appliances. Few cut back much, if any, on the content of their market baskets. Food sales have increased both in unit and dollar volume. And profits of the food industry are 6 per cent higher than a year ago.

The utility companies lose some sales to industry when plants shut down or shorten work weeks. But the consumer goes right on using as much or more power in his home.

It is a rare person indeed who has turned off the refrigerator, or freezer, or furnace, or had his phone taken out. And New York's long hot and muggy spell has sent its power consumption to a record high because of the increased use of air conditioners.

The utility industry reports profits running 4 per cent over a year ago. It had larger year to year increases when industry was booming — but the steady going consumer has kept profits of the government regulated utilities on even keel.

The 15 utility stocks on the Associated Press price index have risen with few bobbles from the low point of the year of 73 on January 2 to 82 at the end of July, while the industrials have had sharp rising and sinking spells.

Once Over

How about an exchange of summer postcards instead of those long letters?

Nikita: Got your message yard by yard and feel much better. Invitation to wrestle you in Moscow noted. Anything for a laugh, eh? — Ike.

Dear Ike: It was a close call. He might have come. — Macmillan.

Dear U.N.: Is I is or is I ain't? And if so when and where? Must know where to ship my abstentions. — Nehru.

Dear Ike and Mac: Maybe I should of stood in bed. Sorry. — De Gaulle.

Dear Nikita: Are you sure you were right in canceling the big New York extravaganza? I had signed troupe of Egyptian dancing girls as added attraction. What do I do now? — Nasser.

Dear Ike: NOT having wonderful time and wish somebody else were here. Having talks with both sides daily and wish I knew the result. — Murphy.

Dear Dag Hammarskjöld: Sorry for your summer of uncertainty. Suggest you take two weeks vacation at a pier riot to keep in shape for anything that may follow.—Lodge.

Mr. President: Had my picnic lunch all packed for American outing when you "included me out" by suggesting it would not be cricket for me to take over the party, select guests, pass the sandwiches and operate the bingo, cane-ringing and wheel-of-chance concessions. All is over between us unless you join me at place of my own choosing under my own rules. How can you be so unfair as to wish to have a voice in these affairs? —Nikita.

"YOU KNOW VERY WELL that the Security Council has not been able to decide anything in the crisis." — Khrushchev to Eisenhower. Yeah, and everybody knows very well who vetoed every effort, Buster.

Fotball news in the good old summertime seems out of place to me, whereas baseball training camp news at the end of the bad old wintertime is a harbinger of better days ahead.

It would be my hunch that Central Intelligence Agency, having been caught short by the anti-Nixon uproar in South America and the revolution in Iraq, is going to have to produce soon or have its budget looked at by Congress.

The success of Canton's own Jack Paar with his ad-choked stay-up-a-thon is no mystery to me. There are untimely million people who are looking for an excuse to stay up and they find it in Jack Paar.

I doubt sincerely that summer-weight clothing can be justified on any basis other than appearance. I do not believe it is appreciably more comfortable than the lightweight clothing most of us wear in the winter.

Someone told me early in the summer that one of the almanacs said there would be five nice days this summer. All right, let's have the other three.

It bothers me to realize that from the day of Pontius Pilate up to the present, including what is going on in Lebanon and Iraq, the crime of "stirring up the people" has been in a class by itself for officials charged with keeping law and order are concerned. Yet, it is only by "stirring up the people" that men make revolutions and progress.

Syngman Rhee, the crusty old realist who runs South Korea, says the trouble with the West is that it worries more about war than it worries about Communists and this has become the Communists' most powerful lever. Therefore, says Rhee, the bold move in the Middle East was a stroke of genius because it made the Communists worry for a change.

People learn to drive a car, meaning how to operate the car, itself. But they now need to learn to drive in the sense of staying out of accidents that could maim and kill them, and this is not being taught.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Gen. Charles de Gaulle is the world's only leader who cannot be reached directly by a normal telephone system. He has cut himself off from such distractions. There are but two phones on his private desk in his Hotel Matignon headquarters for he loathes such intrusions on his thoughts, privacy, time and energy needed for the creation of a new social system in France — which will not quite be modern capitalism as we know it but will have all capitalism's freedom for all workers and businessmen.

The general and his closest aides deliberate long into the night fighting for every minute in which to save off the Communists on one side and the Fascists on the other. One of the phones on the general's desk is a very private wire to his wife and a few trusted colleagues. The other is part of an "inter-ministerial" communications system over which Gen. de Gaulle can talk directly to his Cabinet members personally merely by pressing a button — without any secretary as an intermediary.

When De Gaulle calls on that intercom, a sharp buzzer goes off on the desk of the minister he wants for swift action. The other day, when jets and sailor riflemen and warships were streaming eastward, I heard that buzzer many times.

YET NEITHER Andre Malraux nor the others broke off conversations with this visitor through whom they wanted to explain to the American people what they wanted to do for the French people—and therefore for the free Western world.

Malraux said bluntly that they — De Gaulle and the men and women in the tight band around him—had stopped Fascism in Algeria. Now they were smashing away at Communism and Marxism.

Malraux related how in 1934 Stalin had told him that the Communists planned to start a chain reaction of revolutions all over Europe.

This failed, Malraux said, because the workers had repudiated internationalism. This is a nationalist century.

The workers everywhere love their land and so in France it is his job to develop ideas which can link the workers directly to the state and the state to the workers.

These are his instructions from Gen. de Gaulle. And even as we talked, the general was meeting a few doors away with the leaders of powerful electrical, railway, gas and other public utility workers unions in long personal conversations.

The Premier told them that each group must sacrifice for six months—the unions, the employers and the state.

The government sacrifice would be in the form of subsidies so that wages can be higher, corporate losses avoided and better times possible for all.

SOME OF THE UNION chiefs were Communists—officials of the Moscow-controlled General Confederation of Labor. It would have been simple, in the privacy of his own high-ceilinged office, to say that if they struck he would simply call out the troops. He didn't. During the first week in June he had called in all the union chiefs, a few at a time and asked them to work with him for a democratic state.

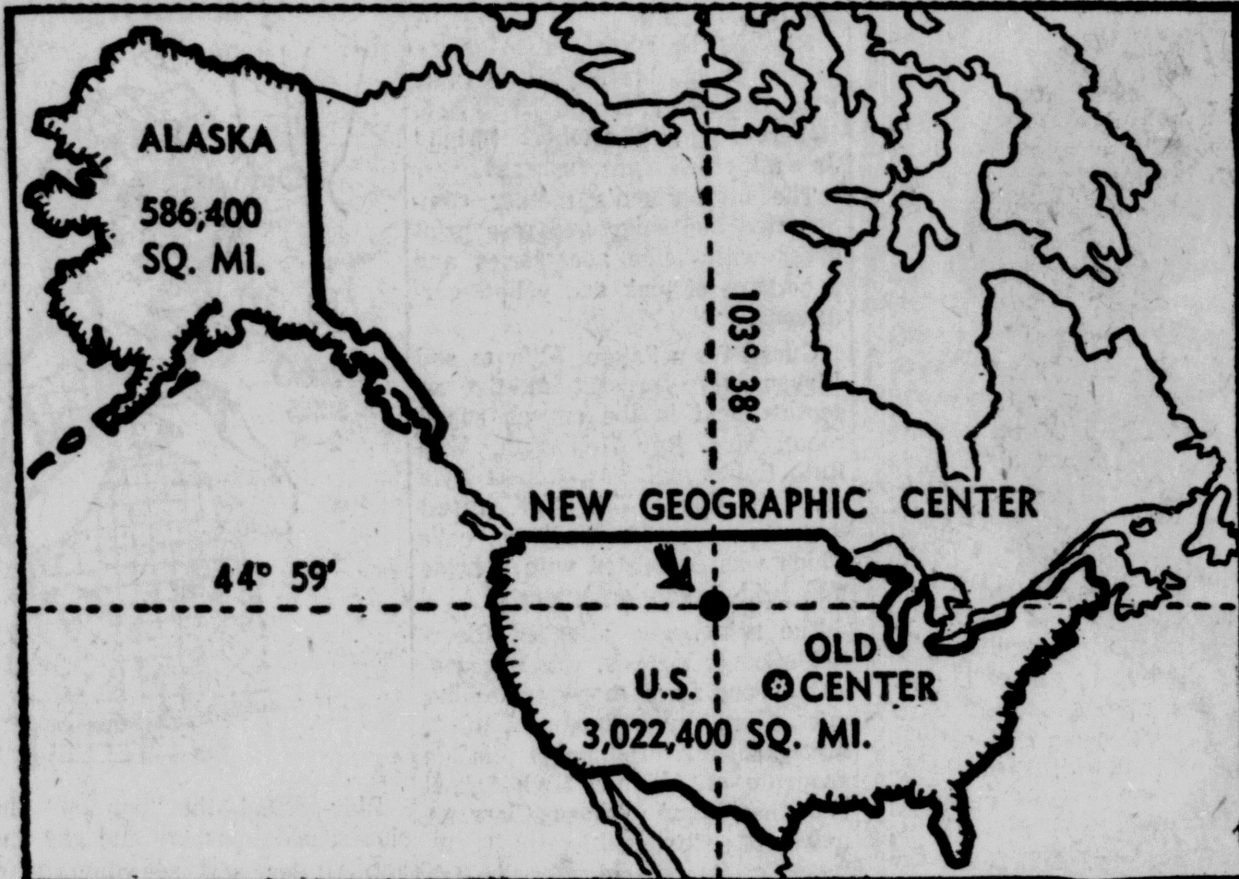

The Communists had refused to come then. Their refusal to talk to him had split the Communist ranks right up to the top.

Then about July 1 the buzzer of the inter-ministerial communications system sounded on the desks of his economic advisers.

Gen. de Gaulle called them in and asked them to prepare laws that called for the Association of Capital and Labor. This would set up special union-management councils in every shop, factory and other installations in the land — with the possible exception of those with less than 100 employees.

AS IT WAS EXPLAINED to me by Gen. de Gaulle's minister of labor, Paul Bacon, and the general's own inner Cabinet trade union expert, Jean Aubry, the powers of these plant councils would be highly flexible. Each industry and each factory would have to work out the duties and powers of each council.

One thing is certain. The workers on these councils will have "responsibility." They will participate in management but not in ownership.

This type of labor management council direction of industry had been Gen. de Gaulle's idea since his leadership of the Provisional French government in the mid-40s.

Something has to be done now, Mr. Malraux said during my talk with him. Why? Because the French workers are worse off than they have been in 50 years.

As I walked into the Hotel Matignon courtyard with one of the Premier's aides I said that this looked like a left-of-center, democratic, anti-fascist regime.

"That's exactly what we've been trying to tell the world but they don't believe us, do they?" was the retort.

Guarding Your Health

Hives a Puzzling Allergic Reaction

Among the allergic diseases, hives, or urticaria, occupies an important place.

Unlike seasonal hay fever (whether the result of pollen from ragweed, trees, grasses or something else) hives may appear at odd times of the year. Consequently the cause of this condition is usually more difficult to identify than ordinary hay fever.

An outbreak of hives usually comes suddenly and unexpectedly. It shows on the skin as reddish swollen spots of various sizes with intense itching. The itching generally involves not only the raised spots but the entire skin.

THESE SIGNS often disappear as fast as they come and sometimes last only a few hours. One of my children had an attack of this sort and I never did know what caused it.

Too often, however, hives goes on for days or weeks and even sometimes turns into a chronic condition which does not disappear for months or years. Chronic hives when an accurate identification of the offending substance can be made.

If strawberries, shrimps, or some particular drug are found to bring on an attack of hives, it is usually easy to avoid the offending substance—bring great relief. These substances, and so avoid future difficulty.

In chronic urticaria, when the cause cannot be discovered, the situation is particularly unpleasant. The skin is unsightly, and itching is often intolerable.

In many instances, however, the drugs which are known as antihistamines — and these should not be taken unless advised by a physician — bring great relief. These drugs do not cure the underlying cause, but may relieve the itching and cause the disappearance of the skin lesions for fairly long periods.

Many features of urticaria are still unsolved. The completely unexpected appearance of hives in a person who has never had the condition before is one of the many problems which has yet to be explained.

400 Expected At 4-H Club Programs

LISBON — Approximately 400 4-H Club members in Columbiana County will attend selection programs for three districts in the junior and senior divisions, Miss Julia Shank, county home economics agent, reports.

The programs will be held: Tuesday, West District—West Local School near East Rochester.

Thursday, Northeast District—Fairfield School, southeast of Columbiana.

Tuesday, Aug. 12, South District—Highlandtown School, between Wellsville and Salineville.

The program for each district will be as follows: 1-2 p. m., registration; 2 p. m. to completion, scoring; 7-30 p. m., open house, food displays, home furnishing displays and floral garden displays, with 4-H members, advisors, parents and guests attending; 8:15 p. m., style show and announcements of winners.

At County Day, Thursday, Aug. 14, two winners of each project from each district in senior competition will compete. In most instances, the winner will be sent to the state fair competition.

Registration will be held 12 to 12:45 p. m. with all 4-H winners attending. While the judging is going on, a program for 4-H members will be held, starting at 1 p. m. Instruction in modeling will be given by Miss Judy Withers of Canfield, Youngstown College Coed, and a food demonstration by Miss Janice Bethel of Salem, district home service director for the Ohio Fuel and Gas Co.

At 2:30 p. m. a style show will be held by announcements of the winners of the County Day, Thursday.

Accidents

ered or the contractor will become careless.

What would it cost a city the size of Salem to go into the garbage business?

Figures obtained by Angelo Vivino, sanitarian, are as follows: Equipment—Two sanitary packer trucks, about $22,000; one open body truck for bulk hauling, $3,500; and one bulldozer to cover the rubbish, about $14,500. Total cost: $40,000.

Labor—Three truck drivers, $12.92 a year; five collectors, $19.967 a year; and a parttime bulldozer operator, $2,740. Labor cost: $35,000.

Incidental expenses—repair, maintenance, and administration, $5,000 yearly.

Total expenses the initial year for a municipally operated collection system, Altogether, about $80,000. Revenue from collection charges would total $63,000 if 4,200 Salem homes were served at a monthly rate of $1.25. Fees charged for hauling rubbish from 300 commercial and industrial establishments would amount to about $17,000 yearly. Altogether, about $80,000 could be anticipated in revenue over a 12-month period.

According to these figures, then, the city would break even during the first year of operation of a municipally owned collection system. However, some income would be realized in subsequent years.

The municipal collection system could be financed initially by issuance of revenue bonds that would be retired by funds received through the service charges.

Land for the sanitary disposal of rubbish is already available for either the municipal or contract systems. Council has passed the necessary legislation authorizing the mayor to purchase 25 acres of land near the city dump for $5,000.

If the collection system is franchised, the individual or company signing the contract would have to do the following:

1. Provide the necessary equipment to collect and dispose of the trash under sanitary conditions.

2. Supply the labor for collection, and maintain the daily "land fill."

3. Guarantee that collections will be made regularly.

Two methods for the collection of service charges are under study by Council. One would use the city billing department for collection of fees, and the other would require the contractor to make his own collections.

Penny Carnival Set In Centennial Park

The annual penny carnival will be held Tuesday at Pavilion No. 2 in Centennial Park by children registered there for the summer playground session.

The carnival will be open in the afternoon to children of other playground groups and in the evening from 6:30 to 8:30 to the children's parents and to the public.

In addition to various booths, there will be entertainment featuring the "Purple People Eater and the Earth Man," by Jeannie Proppeuk and Raymond Lambert; the "Charlestoning Clowns," starring Nancy Older, Peggy Huber and Linda Fenton; and a surprise act by Larry and Rolie McKenzie and Mike Kolner.

Barbara Young and Vaughn Harshman are playground directors.

THEFTS ARE REPORTED — LISBON — William Hall and Larry Whitehead of East Palestine reported Sunday night to Sheriff Russell J. Vanfossen that someone stole a transistor radio owned by Hall and a ring belonging to Whitehead from Hall's car while they were swimming Sunday afternoon on Rt. 170 near Fredericktown.

The thief broke a window vent to gain entry.

450 Persons Attend Family Picnic of W. Virginia Club

Approximately 450 persons attended the West Virginia Club's family picnic held Saturday at Centennial Park. The 240 families, now residing in Columbiana County, represented 34 West Virginia towns.

The program began with the singing of "The West Virginia Hills," directed by the Rev. Guy Stutler of Coolville, O., who traveled 205 miles to attend the picnic.

Prayer was offered by Roger Mear of Hanover, after which Mayor Harold Smith gave the welcome address. The Rev. O. W. Grow provided organ music throughout the day.

Vocal selections were presented by Mrs. John Q. Adams of Hanover, the Rev. Stutler and Leslie Linger of Salem.

Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Noah England of Berlin Center, the couple married the longest, 59 years; Mr. England, 79, oldest guest; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Faulkner, most recently married couple, three months; David Fowler Jr., six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Fowler, youngest guest, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sunderman of Salem, couple with most children present.

Game prizes went to: Franklin Faulkner, Ronnie Jackson, Judy Fowler and Mrs. David Fowler, sack races; Miss Wanda Faulkner and Franklin Faulkner, ball throwing.

Lloyd Morrison, Wayne Jackson and Robert Jeffries conducted the adult games, while Mrs. Ray Stalaker, Mrs. Robert Jeffries and Mrs. Thomas Sheets were in charge of the children's games.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennington were general chairman of the event.

The planning committee for the Aug. 1, 1959 picnic includes Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Sunderman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jeffries and Gene Bowling.

the auto in which she was a passenger failed to negotiate a curve on Rt. 62, and struck several trees owned by C. A. Corbett of RD 4, Salem.

Driver of the car, Michael J. Maffei, 29, also of Niles, was cited by the patrol for driving without an operator's license and for driving left of center.

The accident in which the Cosses were injured is still under investigation. According to patrolmen the motorcycle on which the pair were riding, stopped to make a turn on the county road, and was struck by the farm tractor driven by Earl D. Sponseller, 39, of RD 1, Homeworth.

In another accident, which is still under investigation a car driven by William B. Wright, 19, of 1123 E. 9th St. knocked down 70 feet of wire fence on property owned by Anna Bright of RD 2, Beloit.

The mishap occurred at 6:45 p. m. Sunday on Rt. 62, a mile west of Damascus.

Patrolmen said Wright was attempting to pass another car when a third car tried to pass Wright, causing him to swerve to the right and lose control of his car.

Kiwanian To Hear Bell Co. Supervisor

Ralph T. Riefenstahl, public activities supervisor for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., will be the main speaker at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday noon at the Memorial Building.

His lecture-demonstration will be on "Your Telephone 1965."

William McKay is program chairman.

The club will hold a roundtable at the Lake Hotel Tuesday at noon, and the board of directors will meet at the Farmer's Bank at 7 p. m.

George Jones will be program chairman for the Aug. 14 meeting when Salem's Boys' State delegates will speak.

Ohio District Governor Norman W. Peyton will be the main speaker at the Kiwanis 19th Division Inter-Club meeting to be held Sept. 4 at the Salem Golf Club.

A buck deer which had eluded hunters in Nova Scotia during the entire open season wandered into the town of Bridgewater. It was immediately killed in a traffic accident.

Deaths, Funerals

Harry Baker

Harry Baker, 88, of Detroit, Mich., formerly of Salem, died Saturday morning in a Detroit hospital following a long illness of complications.

Born in Salem Sept. 10, 1869, he was a son of John and Sue Zimmerman Baker.

A machinist by trade, he formerly lived in Youngstown. He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the Masonic Lodge and the Independent Hose Co.

His wife, Elizabeth, died in 1942, and a son, Hugh, died in 1953. He is survived by two sons, John Calvin Baker of Detroit, with whom he made his home the last nine years, and Raymond of Denver, Colo., four grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; and a brother, Charles Baker of Salem.

Funeral service will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home.

Burial will be in Hope Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

William E. Wire

COLUMBIANA — William E. Wire, 78, of 28 W. Salem St., died at 8:07 p. m. Sunday in Salem City Hospital, where he was admitted July 28 for medical treatment.

Born Nov. 25, 1879 in Topeka, Kans., he was a son of Samuel and Julia Flickinger Wire. He was a resident of Columbiana for the past 51 years.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows for more than 40 years and was a member of the Grace Reformed Church.

He was married Nov. 10, 1901, to Iva Rapp, who survives together with a daughter, Mrs. James H. Davis of Columbiana; five grandchildren; three great-grandchildren, four brothers, Samuel and Clyde of Poland, Chancey of Youngstown and Francis of New Middletown.

Service will be Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Fry Funeral Home, with the Rev. Donald Voelm officiating.

Burial will be in Petersburg Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

kept up their demands that President Camille Chamoun step down in favor of Shehab immediately and that the U.S. forces withdraw. The Beirut-Tripoli rebels were told to hold their fire but to hang on to their weapons and positions. Politicians Maintain Chamoun's term does not expire until Sept. 23, and some politicians maintained he should represent the government at any summit conference on the Middle East held before then.

However, Saeb Salam, the rebel chief in Beirut, and other rebel leaders threatened a renewal of fighting if Chamoun or some delegate of his went to the summit for Lebanon.

There were some suggestions that the President designate Shehab as the Lebanese delegate. But the new President is a military man, inexperienced in international politics, and already has his hands full getting ready to take over the government. For that matter Chamoun's departure from the country probably would endanger his precarious hold on the presidency.

Other Middle East developments: Robert Murphy, U.S. deputy undersecretary of state serving as President Eisenhower's Middle East conciliator, returned from a 24-hour stay in Baghdad and prepared to leave for Cairo Tuesday to see President Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Murphy said he was impressed by the determination of Iraq's new Premier, Abdul Karim Kassem, and his ministers to maintain their independence in foreign policy and not to be dominated by anyone. He said his reception was extremely cordial and friendly and that he thought the U.S. recognition of the Iraqi regime, had allayed any suspicion the Baghdad leaders might have had of Washington's intentions toward them.

Murphy added that he thought it would be some time before the Iraqis decided whether to remain in the Baghdad Pact, of which they are the only Arab member.

They said they are giving the Baghdad Pact active study," he said. "They don't speak in terms of hostility."

stipulation that the band will withdraw if funds are not obtained for the trip, Mr. Eckfeld said.

The bill for the band's first night housing at the convention is due four days after the canvass Wednesday. Current funds are insufficient to pay the bill which amounts to about $500.

Organizations which have donated solicitors for the drive Wednesday are: Kiwanis, Rotary, and Lions Clubs, United Commercial Travelers, Jaycees, local labor unions, and the Quaker City Band.

Idea behind the canvass, Mr. Eckfeld emphasized, is to give every resident of Salem an opportunity to give a dollar to help the band on to Chicago, where it will defend the national title it won last year at Atlantic City, N. J.

John Herman, Jr., is handling the organization of the canvass. Volunteer workers will meet at the Legion Home Wednesday at 5:30 to receive assignments in various sections of the city.

tion and mutual assistance." Mao seconded Khrushchev's previous demand for the immediate withdrawal of U.S. and British troops from Lebanon and Jordan.

The communique as usual blasted the "aggressive imperialist bloc headed by the United States monopoly groups" as the enemy of "peace, democracy, national independence and socialism."

There was also a veiled warning that the United States may have more trouble on its own doorstep. China and the Soviet Union, it said, "give firm support to the just struggles of the peoples of the United Arab Republic, the Republic of Iraq, and the other Arab countries, as well as to the national independence movements of the peoples in Asia, Africa and Latin America."

The statement also contained the standard demand for international disarmament, prohibition of atomic weapons and their testing, and "elimination of all military blocs and all military bases on foreign soil."

2 Injured As Plane Strikes Power Line

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Two men were injured slightly Sunday when their four-seater monoplane struck a power line a quarter mile north of Ashland airport.

Treated at Ashland Hospital for minor cuts were Linus Dilgard, 40, of Ashland, the pilot, and Walter Schneeg, 35, of RD 5, Ashland. Passersby rescued them from the burning plane.

Dilgard said he was approaching the airport for a landing when the plane stalled and hit the power line.

Truck-Auto Collision Kills Alliance Man

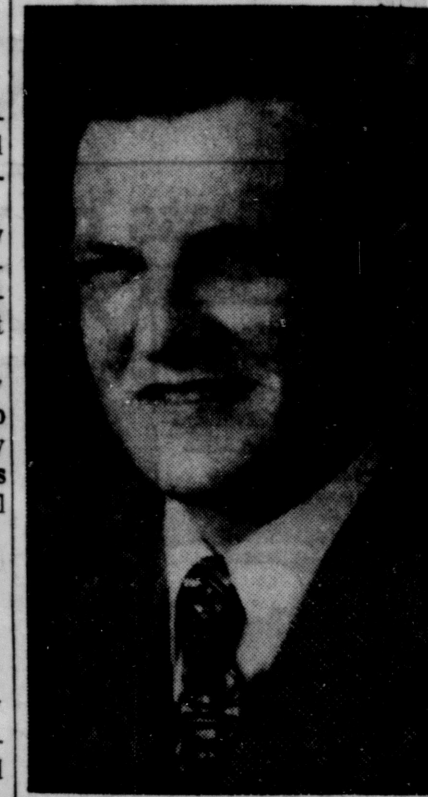

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A truck-car collision at the intersection of Ohio 173 and 44 today near Hartsville killed John P. Davis, 43, of Alliance.

Stark County deputies said Davis westbound on the secondary road, apparently failed to observe a stop sign. The truck driver, Arthur J. Downs, flipped his heavily loaded tractor-trailer over in an attempt to avoid striking the automobile. Downs, of Canton, received minor injuries.

Richard L. Hendricks, 21, of RD 5, Salem, was fined $10 on the muffler charge.

New Postmaster

Joseph H. Andrus

A clerk in the East Palestine post office for almost nine years, Joseph H. Andrus, of 627 Alice St., East Palestine, has been named postmaster to fill the position vacated by Paul Schmid two years ago.

Married and the father of two children, Mr. Andrus formerly worked with the Kenmore Manufacturing Co. His appointment by President Eisenhower as the East Palestine postmaster was confirmed last week by the Senate.

Summit

of working out these proposals was handed over to a group of State Department policy makers under the chairmanship of G. Frederick Reinhardt, counselor of the department.

Secretary of State Dulles left Sunday for a long-planned visit to President Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil. He is due back Thursday.

Officials said that the theme of Eisenhower's planning for a possible meeting with Khrushchev is opposition to the use of "indirect aggression" by nations seeking to upset governments they do not like.

It was learned on high authority that Eisenhower's present intention is to tell Khrushchev flatly that the United States will not tolerate the use of such methods. He is expected to add that where they are employed against legal governments which look to this country for support, the United States will use whatever force is necessary to back up those governments.

One proposal under consideration here is creation of a U. N. watchdog committee to check on international broadcasting and make reports when any country begins radio agitation for the overthrow of a foreign government.

Another is the formation of a standing group of observers to go into any threatened country and throw a mantle of United Nations protection around it.

Also being considered is a possibility of United Nations measures to control the flow of arms into Middle Eastern countries. Washington is against a flat embargo but would like to reduce arms shipments into the area to a minimum.

Three Fined, Jailed For Drunk Driving

Three persons were each fined $100 and costs by Mayor Harold Smith and sentenced to three days in jail on charges of driving while intoxicated during the weekend.

A fourth driver was fined $10 and costs Monday for operating a car with improper mufflers in the city.

Fined for driving while intoxicated were: Kenneth L. Snyder, 30, of 1555 Western Reserve Rd., Poland, who was arrested by the patrol; Virgil McClun, 33, of RD 3, Canfield; and Dale Stoffer, 23, of 796 S. Broadway. The latter two were arrested by police.

Stoffer was also fined $10 for driving without an operator's license.

Richard L. Hendricks, 21, of RD 5, Salem, was fined $10 on the muffler charge.

Field Drops To Six In County Softball Tournament

Herrons Beat L. Machine 5-2

2 Games Scheduled In Tonight's Action

Only six teams remain today from the original field of 14 which began play last week in the Columbiana County softball tournament being held at Kelly Field. Two of the clubs are unbeaten while the other four have tasted defeat once in the double-elimination tourney.

Scott's Candy and Stepanic's Tavern are the pair yet unbeaten. One will fall by the wayside tonight at 9 when they battle for a spot in the finals. The winner of this game will meet the winner of the other five teams in the tourney finals Thursday at 8 p.m.

Tonight at 8, Old Dutch plays Bayard Grange. The winner of this game will play Salem Drive-In Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The Old Dutch-Bayard-Drive-In winner will meet Herron Transfer Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The victor from these four above teams will play the loser of tonight's Scotts-Stepanics game at 9 p.m. Wednesday.

The Wednesday 9 p.m. winner then will play the Scotts-Stepanics winner Thursday at 8 p.m.

Two tourney games were played Sunday. Herron Transfer defeated Lincoln Machine 5-2 behind the four-hit pitching of Leo Kline while Salem Drive-In smashed Jack's Bar 14-6.

It was all Kline in Herron's win. The hurler knocked in four of his club's runs with a triple, double and single besides fanning nine Lincoln players.

The winners got only five hits off loser Judge Guiler and reliever Don Fife.

Dick Laughlin had two hits for the losers including a double.

Salem Drive-In lost no time in routing Jack's. They scored seven times in the third to take a 11-0 lead at the time.

Jim Hanna hit a homer against the scoreboard for the winners to go with a single. Doc Hiner had a double and two singles for Drive-In while Bill Ferguson had a triple, double and single.

Bob Heaton was the winner and Harry Brudery the loser.

Three Class A league games and one Class AA league fray were played over the weekend along with the tourney tilts.

Firestone Inn won a pair beating Old Dutch Beer 8-6 and the Christian Church 6-3 while Electric Furnace whipped the Sportsmen Club 7-3 and Hanoverton defeated Herrons 9-5.

Dave Williams and Frank Faulkner each had two hits for Firestone in their win over Old Dutch. Fred Stumpo had a double and single and Mike Makras two singles for the losers.

Ron Wyss was the winner and Tom Ehrhart the loser.

Firestone took a 7-0 lead in the first inning.

Bill Thomas had three hits in Firestone's win over the Christians. Faulkner had two while Larry Bowersock got the win pitching a three-hitter. Al Chomas lost it.

Furnace scored six times in the second inning to go ahead of the Sportsmen to stay.

Jim Smith and Bob Payer each had a pair of hits for the losers.

John "Shine" Kozar took the loss while Beanie Allison won it. Herron and Hanoverton each had seven hits but a seven-run third frame for the winners was Herrons downfall.

Leo Kline had two hits for the winners. John Shelton took the loss while Joe Vogelhuber got the win.

Yankees Lose Twice To Chicago; Cleveland Drops To Fifth Place

By The Associated Press
No need to break up the Yankees, friends. All ya gotta do is get them to skip the rest of the week and play on Sunday.

It's there in black and white, a 10-12 record with four doubleheader flops to show for the Sunday efforts of the big, bad New Yorkers who make a farce of the American League Monday through Saturday.

Even Manager Casey Stengel, when he isn't cracking wise about the National League, says: "Don't know what it is. Maybe I oughta just manage on weekdays and take Sunday off."

Chicago's climbing White Sox, now only a half game out of second place, had Sunday's outing against the runaway Al leaders. They cut the Yanks' margin to a 15½ games with 3-1 and 40 victories behind righthander Dick Donovan and Ray Moore.

Boston's Red Sox took advantage of the Yankee losses to pull back into second place, shattering Cleveland's seven-game winning streak 3-2 and 4-2. The sweep dumped the Indians from second to fifth. Detroit, running its win streak to six, moved up to fourth with 3-2, 4-1 victories over Baltimore. Kansas City split with Washington, dropping a 15-inning nightcap 4-3 after romping home 12-0 in the opener.

In the National League, Milwaukee cuffed second place San Francisco 4-3 and 6-0 opening up a five-game lead. Pittsburgh blanked St. Louis for the third straight game, 2-0, and led 2-0 after 4½ innings of a nightcap suspended by the Pennsylvania 7 p.m. curfew. Los Angeles topped Cincinnati 8-6 in a 10-inning opener and the Redlegs won the second game, 3-1. Chicago and Philadelphia also split, the Cubs winning 12-10 after the Phils won the first, 8-2.

Donovan, winning his fifth straight for a 8-10 record, fired a three-hitter against the Yankees in the opener and outduelled Whitford Ford (13-5). Moore (7-3) was just as stingy, scattering five hits for his second shutout (both against the Yanks) and his third complete game (all three against the Yanks). Johnny Kucks lost it.

Ted Williams' two run homer in the ninth won the first game for the Red Sox as Murray Wall won in relief over Gary Bell. The Sox whipped Ray Narleski in the second game.

Paul Foytack and Billy Hoelt turned in steady eight-hitters for the Tigers. Baltimore Manager Paul Richards got the boot in both games while disputing calls.

Pileups Mark Racing Card At Canfield

Pete Foltz of Canton survived a race loaded with two pileups to capture his second feature victory of the season Saturday night at the Canfield Speedway before 3,327 fans. Earlier in the program, Baldy Baker of Bolivar won the special 10-lap event for previous "modified bomb" feature winners. Norm McCarthy of Cleveland was second. In the 25-lap feature, Foltz started in the No. 3 spot and took the lead on the third lap to hold it the rest of the way. Calhoun also was second in this event.

The first of the two pileups took place on the 13th lap when cars driven by Baker, Ron Krejci, Ray Laughlin, Frank Spatman and Russ Allen tangled. Dave Hale and Calhoun piled up on the 16th lap.

Plent of action was packed in to the fifth event on the program: the fourth 10-lap heat race as John Chamberlain of Canton rolled over in front of the grandstand on the second lap. It was Chamberlain's first appearance at the track. Three laps later Dave Hale of Brbrton hit the fence on the fifth lap when he was leading the pack. He came back to regain the top spot on the eighth but was knocked out of commission on the 10th. Paul Kerr of Youngstown hit the fence on the sixth lap.

Venturi Fires 68 To Capture 3-Stroke Lead In Open Meet

CHICAGO (AP)—Ken Venturi, a sophomore pro with a golden touch, had a three-stroke lead and the "whirlybird" jitters today as the $50,000 Chicago Open entered its final round.

San Francisco's Venturi, 27, Sunday tacked a 2-under-par 68 onto previous rounds of 65 and 67 for a 54-hole total of 200. That was three strokes ahead of veteran Jack Burke and another comparative newcomer to the pro ranks, Don January, who shared the runnerup spot at 203.

In fourth place, four strokes off the pace at 204 was the youthful South African star, Gary Player, 22, Johannesburg, while Ernie Vossler, and seasoned Marty Furgol were five strokes behind at 205.

"The best shot I could have made yesterday," caustically commented Venturi, "would have been to bring down that helicopter."

The leader in the chase for the $9,000 first prize was referring to an aircraft which hovered over the par 35-70 public fee Glen-eagles course for picture-taking purposes.

Venturi, now fifth among the year's top with a $21,870 total, conceded the helicopter bothered him on only one hole, the 11th, where he took a par 4. However, the low-hanging machine obviously had Venturi still boiling when he took a double bogey 7 on the 13th and a bogey 4 on the 17th.

The helicopter, used in connection with rushing photographers' prints to Chicago, Sunday also had been employed for aerial camera work. It will continue to operate on scheduled photo flights in today's closing round.

None of the year's pedigreed titleholders was within shooting distance of Venturi. U. S. Open champion Tommy Bolt was bracketed with four others at 210, 10 strokes off the pace.

Sammy Snead and Cary Middlecoff were lodged with five colleagues at 212, while PGA champion Dow Finsterwald was one of five 213 shooters and the year's top money winner and Masters titlist, Arnold Palmer ($36,900) was hopelessly out of the running at 216.

Dow Finsterwald Could Be Another Ben Hogan

By HARRY GRAYSON

The early careers of Dow Finsterwald and Ben Hogan are strangely parallel. And let me be first to predict that the businessman golfer out of Athens, O. could be another Hogan.

Finsterwald has one tremendous advantage. He has just won his first major national championship, the PGA, six years sooner than Hogan prevailed in the same event. Few people realize that Hogan compiled his truly fabulous record — in the PGA, Masters and the United States and British Opens — after he was 34 years of age. The way golfers develop these days, Finsterwald, at 28, is just ready to strike.

Finsterwald is about Hogan's height and weight and has the same wiry build. Next to Hogan, no player has been more dedicated to the game or worked at it harder. Dow has Ben's dead pan, and while not un sociable and without a sense of quiet humor, has time only for those deeply interested in golf.

Again like the winningest Irishman ever to come out of Dublin, Tex., Dow is a bit of a loner. He goes to dinner alone, in the midst of a tournament and while surrounded by thousands of admirers.

Hogan hit the tournament trail with a splash by winning three straight tournaments in 1940, when he won the Vardon trophy and was the leading money winner. Finsterwald attracted attention as a peagreen, too, playing while member of the Air Force from 1952 to '54.

ONCE MORE LIKE HOGAN. Finsterwald was a hooker. It was three years at Baton Rouge that Finsterwald told Jimmy Demaret he intended to fade the ball. Demaret reminded him that many of the greats were draw players, hitting the ball from right to left, but Finsterwald was determined to go the other way.

As did Hogan, Finsterwald got the idea of developing the fade to cure the hook from Demaret, who was a fader as a kid. And again like Hogan, Finsterwald had a couple of mighty lean years while perfecting the fade.

While he hasn't won as often at the same stage, Finsterwald has been as consistent as was Hogan. Dow even broke Ben's record for total of consecutive times in the money, which was 56, from 1939 through 1941. Dow was in the coin in 72 straight tournaments, or until he ran out at Baton Rouge the past spring.

AS DEMARET POINTS OUT, his finishing second 17 times in 31 months gives you a fine slant on how excellent Finsterwald has been.

"Finsterwald could have finished first that many times, too," stresses es Demaret, "for only a shot or two separate the leader from the second man and Dow has been beaten in play-offs.

DOW FINSTERWALD "Out of trouble."

"Finsterwald is one of three of the younger professionals who is in full command of all the shots. The other two are Billy Casper and Ken Venuri. Arnold Palmer is a strong player, but lacks the finesse of the other three.

"If there are departments of Finsterwald's game which stick out they are his fine iron play and the ability to bounce out of trouble. The best golfer has to get into difficulties in 72 holes, and the knack of getting out of bad situations is a big asset."

Like Dr. Cary Middlecoff and practically everybody else, Jimmy Demaret predicts that a lot more will be heard of Dow Finsterwald. Once more like Ben Hogan, winning the PGA Championship could have lit a fire under him.

Braves Take Pair From SF To Run Win Streak To 6; Lead Now By 5

By The Associated Press
Und so der Braves haben totgeschlagen der Giant!
Freely translated, as any German-bred, jumpin' for joy Milwaukee burgher will tell you, it means the San Francisco Giants have probably had it as a National League challenger.

By combining a six-game winning streak of their own with a six-game Giants losing streak, Milwaukee's champion Braves have opened up a five-game lead in the NL.

The 4-2 and 6-0 victory Sunday at County Stadium gave Milwaukee a four-game weekend sweep of the Giants.

The Giants now lead third place Pittsburgh by only two games after the Pirates' third successive shutout victory over the hapless St. Louis Cardinals, 2-0, in the first of two scheduled games at Pittsburgh. The Pirates led 2-0 in the fifth inning when the second game collided with Pennsylvania's 7 p.m. curfew.

Chicago and Philadelphia split, the Cubs outscoring the Phils 2-1 10 after the Phils had won the opener 8-2 behind Ray Sempach. Los Angeles and Cincinnati also split, enabling the Dodgers to vacate last place in favor of the Cards. Los Angeles won the first game, 8-6 in 10 innings, and dropped the nightcap 3-1.

In the American League, Dick Donovan and Ray Moore pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 3-1, 4-0 sweep of New York, trimming the Yanks' lead to 1½ over second place Boston. The Red Sox whipped Cleveland 3-2 and 4-2 and Detroit won two from Baltimore, 3-2, and 4-1. Washington split with Kansas City, taking the second game 4-3 in 15 innings after the A's had romped home 12-0 in the opener.

Punch and pitching did it for the Braves against the Giants. Joe Adcock's two-run homer in the sixth and sacrifice fly in the eighth won the opener as Bob Trowbridge bagged his first victory with seven hitless innings in relief of starter Gene Conley.

Wes Covington and Frank Torre banged homers in the second game and the Braves coasted behind Warren Spahn's four-hitter for his 43rd career shutout. John ny Antonelli and Rube Gomez were the losers.

Bob Friend won his 14th, tying Spahn for the NL high, for the bustling Pirates, who had blanked St. Louis 2-0 Friday and 1-0 Saturday. George Witt added five more blanks to the Cards' woeful streak before the curfew put off completion of the game until Sept. 16.

Tribe Drops Doubleheader To Boston; 7-Game Skein Halted

CLEVELAND — All good things must come to an end—even the Cleveland Indians' seven-game winning streak.
But the Boston Red Sox made the ending bitter to take by sweeping a doubleheader at the stadium Sunday, 3-2 and 4-2.

Ted Williams provided the crushing in the opener with a two-run homer in the ninth inning, spoiling Gary Bell's three-hitter through eight innings.

In the nightcap, Ray Narleski had a four-hit shutout going into the eighth inning. Then the Red Sox exploded for six hits and all four runs. Pete Runnels' two-run double was the key blow.

The Tribe pitching, which has led the way to 10 victories in the 15-game home stand, was good enough, but the hitters provided little support.

Cleveland batsmen collected only 10 hits—five of them by Minnie Minoso—and only one home run, by Bobby Avila.

The double setback dropped Cleveland from second to fifth place in the jumbled scramble behind the pace-setting New York Yankees.

The Red Sox scored first in the opener on pitcher Ike Delock's double in the sixth inning. He moved to third on a sacrifice bunt and rode home on Runnels' sacrifice fly to right-center.

Bob Thurman's two-run homer in the seventh and veteran Alex Kellner's five-hit pitching enabled the Redlegs to salvage a split with Los Angeles. A walk and singles by Charlie Neal, Emer Ivale and Jim Gilliam in the 10th won the opener for the Dodgers, now in seventh place a half-game in front of St. Louis.

The Indians countered with two runs in their half of the sixth on Gary Geiger's single, a double by Minoso which centerfielder Gene Stephens permitted to soar over his head, and three straight walks by Delock. Vic Wertz, pinchhitting for Billy Hunter, drew the pass that gave the Tribe a 2-1 lead.

With Bell working smoothly the one-run margin looked good. Then Runnels opened the ninth with a single and Williams smashed his 18th homer of the campaign.

Bell was tagged with his fifth loss against a like number of victories.
Avila gave Narleski a 1-0 lead in the third inning of the second contest with his fourth homer. Minoso doubled, stole third and continued home when the catcher made a wild throw in the fourth. That made it 2-0.

Narleski, shooting for his 12th win, was handed his ninth setback instead when Boston mounted its eighth inning spurge. The Red Sox chased Narleski and continued the assault on Hoyt Wilhelm before he could retire the side by picking Jackie Jensen off first.

Boston ended its five-game losing spell but still closed out the trip with a dismal 4-10 record.

Rocky To Hurl For Cleveland Against Cincy

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Indians and Cincinnati Redlegs meet at 8 o'clock tonight at Municipal Stadium in the annual benefit game for Cleveland sandlot baseball. A crowd of 35,000 to 40,000 is expected.

Rocky Colavito, the Indians' strong armed outfielder, is slated to pitch an inning or two as the Tribe attempts to avenge a 4-3 loss suffered last Monday night on Cincinnati's sandlot card. Colavito struck out five Redlegs and gave up two singles in two innings in last week's game.

Starting on the mound for Cleveland tonight will be Paul Robinson, 24-year-old righthander from the Tribe's Reading farm club.

Preceding the Cleveland-Cincinnati contest will be a game between Cleveland old timers and Cleveland disc jockeys. Lee Fohl, former pilot of the Indians, will manage the old timers and Vic Wertz of the Tribe will pilot the disc jockeys.

Two Salem Students Attending Workshop

Karen Elliot and Danny Krichbaum of Salem are among 186 students participating in the second Ohio Student Council Workshop at Ohio University in Athens which began Sunday and will continue till Friday.

The five-day workshop, sponsored by Ohio University and the Ohio Association of Student Councils, is the only one of its kind in Ohio.

It gives students active in high school councils an opportunity to exchange ideas.

Twice each day the group meets for a general assembly to hear a lecture pertaining to student councils. After each lecture, the students meet in small groups to discuss the aims and objectives of student councils.

Napoleon's armies built the first Alpine pass in Switzerland between 1800 and 1805. Today it is still a major highway.

Listing of New Books at Salem Public Library

Water skiing has become one of America's most popular sports. A new book at the Salem Public Library, "Water Skiing" by Richard Pope, contains basic instruction for the novice as well as material on tricks and stunts for the advanced skier.

Helen Hull has written many novels with New England settings. Her latest book tells of events in a resort hotel along the Marine seacoast. The Wyatts are having trouble keeping the hotel open and one of the troubles is the waitress, Beulah, whose salty comments enliven the story.

Other Fiction

"Deadly is the Diamond" by M. G. Eberhart. Four short mystery stories dealing with murders incited by greed, hate or a valuable diamond.

"Dragon Tree" by Victor Canning. A tale of suspense involving Major John Richmond as he attempts to escort three Cyrenian troublemakers to an island prison. One of the three had his escape planned before the journey started.

"Hard Blue Sky" by Shirley Ann Grau. One hot summer on an island off the Louisiana Coast, and the joys and problems of its backward, inbred people.

"The Lorelei" by Lawrence Bachmann. Fast paced tale of a girl who wanted to dispose of her boy friend. The boy friend, who had committed murder in the German underground, was not anxious to be dismissed.

"Portuguese Escape" by Ann

Bridge. Hetta who had escaped from Hungary to Portugal, becomes involved with a young American in the rescue of a priest from the Hungarian communists.

"Young Fair Maidens" by N. L. Babson. An introspective novel of teen aged twin sisters in 1912. One was a popular and pretty extrovert about to elope with her boy friend. The other was shy and resigned to the fact that the schoolmaster that she adored preferred her mother.

"Great Gold Mountain" by James McCague. While being driven around town in Ike Witheroe's shiny Cadillac, Ed Gandee recalls the time thirty-three years earlier when the whole town had been flim-flammed.

"Count of Nine" by Earle Stanley Gardner. The slick deft Donald Lam and his boss, oversized Bertha Cool, tackle another murder mystery.

NON FICTION

"My Strangest Case" edited by Kurt Singer. Eighteen police chiefs from cities all over the world tell of their strange cases.

"The Great EB" by Herman Kogan. Though this is a history of the Encyclopedia Britannica from the mid-eighteenth century to the present it is also a history of ideas, personalities, business events and educational philosophies.

"Strength to Move a Mountain" by W. S. Lee. A swift, colorful, and dramatic account of the building of the Panama Canal. It covers the personalities and politics involved as well as the labor and engineering required to build the canal.

"Prince of Carpetbaggers" by Jonathan Daniels. The life of General Milton S. Littlefield, once of Sherman's Army, who returned to the South during the Reconstruction and took millions from Rebels, Northerners and even Englishmen before his thievery was discovered.

"Bennington Pottery and Porcelain" by R. C. Barrett. The curator of the Bennington Museum gives the history of the various types of ceramics in the museum.

"Consciousness at Concord" edited by Perry Miller. The text of Thoreau's Journal for the year 1840-41 was lost for many years. In this Journal Thoreau wrote on Harvard University, his friendship with Emerson, and many other subjects.

"Higher Education in Transition" by J. S. Brubacher and W. Rudy. A history of American higher education from 1636 to 1956 which emphasizes the changing attitudes toward curriculum, student life, academic freedom and other basic problems.

"From Queensland to the Great Barrier Reef" by Noel Monkman. A mixture of a naturalists adventures in Australia, dealing with crocodiles and other wild animals, and exploring on land and under the sea.

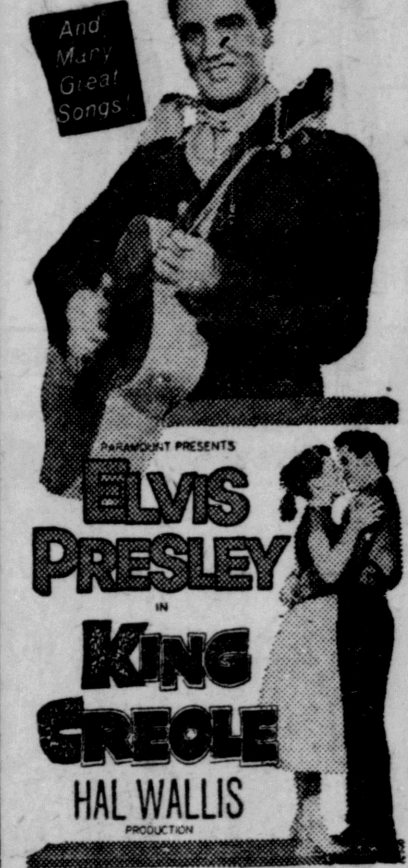

"Tell Us Please" by C. J. Woodbridge. This book attempts to give the Christian answer to life's greatest questions, such as: "Why am I here? Where am I going?" etc.

"Your Allergy and You" by K. K. Haydock. What allergies are, what can be done for them, and how the patient can help the doctor control the condition for the 17,000,000 persons who suffer from some type of allergy.
